What am I doing? she thought. But she couldn't help herself. She couldn't stop kissing him.

It's her first summer home from college, and what better way for Gabrielle to spend her time than with the one person she's known her whole life and feels closest to, Anthony? But as she steps out of the van and sees Anthony for the first time in eight months, she can't believe her eyes. He's grown up! He's filled out! He's become a man!

The summer goes on and Anthony and Gabrielle easily find themselves rekindling their old friendship. But something else is bubbling up inside of them ... a feeling that neither of them had expected, and that neither of them can say out loud.

After one magical night where all tensions are finally broken, they find themselves in seventh heaven. Their secret is hidden from everyone, and they couldn't be happier. But then, one night at a house party, a drunken Anthony is convinced by his old friends to sleep with a girl from school, threatening to shatter what he and Gabrielle have.

Will Gabrielle allow herself to remain heartbroken at what Anthony has done? Or will she be able to find it in her heart to forgive the only man she's ever, truly loved?
