2014 Oregon Residential Specialty Code (Insert Pages to the 2011 ORSC) The 2014 Oregon Residential Specialty Code (ORSC) was developed as a minor update to the 2011 ORSC, based on the 2009 International Residential Code (IRC). This code change cycle review was utilized as an opportunity to clarify regulations within the Residential Code, promote consistency and reduce cost to Oregon consumers and businesses. This code is effective October 1, 2014. The Building Codes Division anticipates the next ORSC review year, 2017, to be a major update that will include a review of the national model code. The Oregon Amendments outlined on these insert pages were created for use in the 2011 ORSC. They have been formatted so that when inserted, the amendments will face the page containing the existing code language. Instructions: These pages are double-sided in "book" format. The cover page can be inserted at the beginning of your code book. The Table of Contents provides all the sections that have been updated. The amended language is depicted as follows: A. Strikethrough - Language deleted from the 2011 ORSC. B. Underlined - Language added to the 2011 ORSC. Chapter 1 has been recreated. Replace the entire chapter with the Chapter 1 in these insert pages.
